

Checklist for completing a Final Project Report (International Programmes/Joint Projects/ERA-Net-Calls)

Please submit the entire Final Project Report, in English, using the FWF research documentation system Researchfish.<sup>1</sup>

For information on how to use the system, please refer to the User Guide.

1 Components of the Final Project Report

The full Final Project Report consists of the sections Common Outcomes and Additional Funder Questions.

1.1. Common Outcomes

In the Common Outcomes section, relevant published project results are presented in a well-structured manner. The research documentation system offers various possibilities and support options for this section. For International Programmes/Joint Projects/ERA-Net-Calls, the following information is required, if applicable to your project:

- Publications<sup>2</sup>
- Further Funding
- Research Databases & Models
- Intellectual Property & Licensing
- Awards & Recognition

Collaborations & Partnerships is only relevant if you want to name research teams or partner organisations. For individuals, this information is adequately covered in the statistical section of the Additional Funder Questions.

All other items are optional.

<sup>1</sup> The Final Project Report and, in particular, the FWF Research Report, must be written in the language of the application. It can only be submitted in German if German was the only language used in the application.

<sup>2</sup> Publications that have not yet been published can be listed in the FWF Research Report under section 4, "Other important aspects" and can be added at a later date.

1.2. Additional Funder Questions

- Please note that only one PDF file of max. 5 MB can be uploaded.

1.2.3 FWF Data Management Plan (DMP)

- Applies to all projects approved under the new application guidelines as of 1 January 2019.
- Please upload the updated version of the data management plan you originally submitted as a PDF file.
- Instructions and a template for the DMP can be found here.
- Open access must be provided to the research data behind the scientific publications resulting from the project, unless this is not possible for legal, ethical, or other reasons (see Research Data Management). For this reason, this data also needs to be listed under Common Outcomes in the section Research Databases & Models.

What happens with the Final Project Report?

The public relations summaries and any project-relevant research results will be published on the FWF website. If the summaries cannot be released to the public for some reason, please indicate this in the system and provide an explanation.

Key data from the report (wide-reaching effects, career developments, etc.) are aggregated, anonymised, and evaluated on a regular basis.

The FWF makes every effort to have the Final Project Report subjected to a final review by one of the proposal's original reviewers. The full review will be forwarded to the principal investigator, who then has the opportunity to read and comment on it. This review and any comments remain with the FWF.

Projects whose lead agency was not the FWF not subject to final review by the FWF.

Please see the FWF website for further information on the reporting process.
